"I'd Like to Report a Claim"

Quick claims reporting can save money, dramatically reduce the severity of an injury, and lessen the amount of time an employee is off work. Our experienced claims team partners with you to ensure injured workers get the best possible care at the lowest possible cost to you.

- The quicker case managers get the injured employee to the right doctors or specialists, the more likely the injury will be treated correctly and efficiently.
- Reporting early removes the possibility of worsening the injury and lengthening healing time.
- Studies show that not reporting a claim for a week or longer can result in an average increase of 18% higher paid for that claim compared to claims filed on the day they occur.

Reporting in 24 Hours or Less...

- Means better overall care for your employee.
- Allows case managers to construct a transition-to-work plan.
- Cuts down on overall cost and stress on the employee and business.

Be Prepared

Knowing all the ABCs to claims reporting is one of the best things you can do to protect and prepare yourself, and your workers, when an injury occurs. So keep a claim reporting checklist nearby. Visit AccidentFund.com and click on Claims for a list of information you'll need.
